Agency for Persons with Disabilities (APD)

“My goal in my role is to promote, self-advocate and assist people with disabilities,” said Yari Aponte, the APD’s division director, “to become more independent and feel part of our community.” UFHC has a fully trained staff that will help to carry out the mission of the agency where they will provide support to persons with development disabilities to live, learn and work in their communities. Their goal is to improve the quality of life for those who cannot easily help themselves, through personal support, life skill development and companionship. The benefits of remaining at home rather than an institution is paramount to an individual’s wellbeing,” added Olive Gaye, President & Founder. “As advancement in medicine, improved safety measures and superior nutrition allows us to live longer, UFHC considers itself very privileged to be selected for the APD program which allows individuals in our communities to remain in their home for as long as possible.”
